

VINOVIA WELCOMES NEW ORGANIC SPARKLING WINE PRODUCER

We're pleased to welcome a new organic producer to our portfolio. Jasmine Monet make a range of stunning sparkling wines from their organic vineyards in Gualtallary, Valle de Uco, Argentina.

Convinced that 'terroir' determines the personality and mood of a good sparkling wine, they harvest from their own vineyards in Mendoza, At 1,300 meters above sea level. Jasmine Monet has 44 hectares of vines (some up to 60 years old) and being in the foothills of the Andes brings a wonderful natural acidity to the wines. Central to their organic winemaking is a respect for the environment and a focus on sustainable agriculture, being useful in the world in which they live.

Jasmine Monet make three organic sparkling wines all of which are now available through Vinovia Wine Group. They are made using natural, traditional winemaking and, the Charmat "lungo" method, which is long tank fermentation for 8 months.
