BACKGROUND

There are four elements which influence the excellence of Garbet's wines: the Mediterranean, which it looks out over, the warmth of its sun, a slaty soil which gives it character, and the unceasing Tramontane North wind. They make up what Perelada call the "Aires de Garbet" ("Airs of Garbet").

WINEMAKING

Red winemaking technique, maceration for 19 days at a controlled temperature of 24°C, and punching the cap twice daily. 15 months in second use Bordelaise sized-French Tronçais oak barrels of 300 liters, the rest in bottle.

TASTING NOTES

This is a wine with a great aromatic variety that reminds us to the Mediterranean vineyard where it comes from: aromatic herbs, red fruits and a balsamic background. In the mouth it is fresh, intense and well balanced. It presents a clear varietal personality, with mature and enveloping tannins and a silky sensation. It is an elegant wine, with a long aftertaste and offers a huge potential for ageing.

ABOUT PERELADA

When Miguel Mateu acquired the Castle of Perelada in 1923, one of his hopes was to revive a wine-making tradition that traces its genesis back to the fourteenth century, when the Carmelite monks produced wine for the whole region. More than eighty years later, Castillo Perelada has become one of the leading wine producers in Spain and has led the Empordà, the oldest wine-producing region in Spain, in its spectacular revival. Perelada has been named in the World's top 50 Most Admired Wine Brands of 2024
