Our story

Domaine Thierry Drouin is an outstanding winery in Burgundy, located in Vergisson, a small picturesque village in Maconnaise, anchored in an exceptional and historical terroir where legends abound.

The estate benefits from a magnificent panorama over the Rock of Solutré and the outcrop of Vergisson. They farm a wide range of plots and blocks, the famous Burgundian climats where the Chardonnay grape expresses itself superbly well, on clay and limestone soils which give birth to rich and varied wines.

Meticulous work in the vineyard as well as in the cellar allows Domaine Thierry Drouin to extract the best from the soil and from the grapes, and to emphasise the typicity of each terroir in the best possible way.

Combining decades of know-how and experience, Charles and Thierry craft authentic, utterly delicious wines.

Our Vineyards

Established in 1981 in Vergisson in the Mâconnais region, the estate now covers about 10 hectares, 7 of which are in Pouilly-Fuissé, along with 3 hectares of Mâcon (white and red) and 60 acres of Saint-Véran. The vines are planted 8,000 per hectare.

The soil is predominantly limestone and clay which gives Chardonnay the perfect conditions to thrive.

Our farming practices are environmentally-friendly, allowing us to use the fauna and the flora that surround us. We manage our vineyard sustainably, in particular when fighting diseases. Our viticulture is respectful of the environment, based on manual and meticulous work to produce elegant, rich and balanced wines. For example, more than half of our vineyard surface is ploughed, allowing for a better aeration of the soil and microbial life.
