BACKGROUND

Rosés are the hallmark of this AOC, accounting for 80% of production. The blend and the length of the vatting period influence the intensity of the colour. The terroir is made up of a complex geology comprising two main areas: one to the north-west, made up of limestone hills, and the other to the south-east, made up of crystalline rock.

WINEMAKING

The winemaking is completely traditional, Pressing is done immediately after harvest to ensure the fruit characters are maintained.

TASTING NOTE

A pink color with purple reflections. Complex and rich aromas. Floral and fruity notes with fresh spices and exotic fruits on the palate. Good with white meat or Asian cuisine.
