BACKGROUND

Located at the base of the magnificent Andes mountain range at over 3,600 feet above sea level, Qaramy Malbec is born from a single vineyard which gives rise to this beautiful collection. Thanks to the high quality of the grapes obtained, its production is natural and spontaneous with low intervention and it is partially aged for 10 months in French oak barrels, thus obtaining a balanced, fresh and elegant wine.

WINEMAKING

Fermentation occurs in open top inox tanks, cold maceration for 6 days, maceration for 16 days in total. 50% is aged for 10 months in French oak barrels.

TASTING NOTE

A rich Malbec with a smooth integration of oak which gives it good food pairing possibilities. A modern style, with balance and a good fruit expression.

AWARDS

93 Points, Descorchados 2025

ABOUT QARAMY

QARAMY means "poetry" in the ancient Quechua language, a native South American language spoken primarily in the Andes. The name symbolizes the winery's expression of loyalty, tradition and commitment to its terroirs and wines. From the beginning, winemaker Karim Mussi wished to transcend by basing his winemaking on three fundamental pillars; innovation, terroir and an awareness and vineyard sustainability. His obsession to find the most pure fruit, seeking for a unique identity through original old vine rootstocks, has led him to achieve a terroir driven concept, blooming in each wine. This results in wines, notable for their balance, elegance and aging capacity as his signature style.
