Les Cailloux, the stones in English, are present in many top Bordeaux vineyards. Carried along by the Garonne River, these stones favor a better drainage and force the vines to go deep into the soil to find their nutrients. Forced to search for resources, the plant will regulate fruit production resulting in berries with concentration of fruit and aromas, an essential requirement to produce refined and full bodied Bordeaux wines.

Les Cailloux Rouge is a refined and elegant blend of Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot grown on the greatest terroirs of Bordeaux where the most legendary growths are located. Complex, intense and very fruit forward, this unique red Bordeaux will pair perfectly with a cheese platter, wild mushrooms, or your favorite grilled red meats.
