BACKGROUND

The Casa Gran del Siurana project began in the year 2000 to produce the best possible wines in Priorat from scratch selecting the land with most potential, choosing the most suitable vine stocks and cultivating them carefully until the optimum moment for harvesting, then deciding on the best means of vinification and ageing.

WINEMAKING

Careful selection of Syrah grapes from La Fredat vineyard before being taken to the winery where they undergo very long maceration in order to extract the maximum content from the pulp and skins, transferring the essence of both the soil and the year to the wine.

TASTING NOTES

Dark cherry red in color. On the nose there are very intense and complex aromas, blackberries, vanilla, coffee and spices. Creamy and round in the mouth, fresh and mineral with a well-integrated oak. A deep, full-bodied wine with smooth tannins and a very long and intense finish.

AWARDS

ABOUT CASA GRAN DEL SIURANA

On the outskirts of Bellmunt del Priorat, on the banks of the River Siurana, stands the property popularly known as Casa Gran. This historic, three hundred year old building was previously home to the Carthusian monks of Scala Dei, the monastic order which introduced viticulture into the area in the 12th century.
